Judith Elliott

Judith is an experienced HR leader and Executive Coach. She is the Director of elconsulting and a Fellow of the CIPD. elconsulting is a leadership training and coaching company supporting managers and top teams in both global companies and smaller high growth organisations across all sectors. For example, she has supported senior clinical leaders in the NHS and senior academics at the University of Cambridge as well as entrepreneurs with big ideas. She had a long career with the John Lewis Partnership before starting her own company (and starting a family at the same time!)

Despite a career training and coaching others, her dog, called Mutley, has trained her to give him biscuits every time she sits down for a coffee. Two biscuits for a G&T.
